Important of research

Jinyang Li

A20317851

COM 421

Professor Edward Scott

3/6/2016

Importance of research

My research is to find the technical requirements and user needs for project. The importance of these researches directly head to the project. I could conclude the require informations needed for project which is the most important.

The user needs research is important cause a successful product is user first.

Works Cited

Mike Markel, Technical Communication (11th edition)